SENATOR HENRY A. DU PONT.

The government's bill against the combination termed the powder trust names as one of the defendants Senator Henry A. Du Pont of Delaware, a and the Practice of Medicine. member of the famous family of powder ninkers which for more than a century has furnished high explosives to the government. Senator Du Pont was chosen one of the members from Delaware in the upper branch of congress after a long and memorable contest, and when he entered the senate last year It was announced that he had withdrawn from active participation in the powder business. He is no longer receident of the corporation which exercises a dominant influence in the affect of the powder combination, but it is charged by the government that he is still one of its principal stockholders, Sens it Du Pont was born in 1838 and is a great grandson of Pierre Samuel Du Pont de Nemours, the French economist and statesman who founded the American branch of the Du Pont family. The senator graduated from West Point in 1861 at the head of his class and made a remarkable record for bravery in the civil war.

The Origin of the Word Fillbuster. The name "buccaneer" was chieff affected by the English adventurers on our coast, while the French members of the profession often preferred the name of "dibustier." This word, which has since bean corrupted into our fapullfar "fillbuster," is said to have been originally a corruption, being nothing more than the French toethed of pronouncing the word "freebooters," She They say Tom Swift is going which title had long been used for independent robbers.
